Collect

O Lord, we beseech thee mercifully to hear us: and grant that we, to whom thou hast given an hearty desire to pray, may, by thy mighty aid, be defended and comforted in all dangers and adversities; through Jesus Christ thy Son our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

First Reading

2 Kings 4:8-11,14-16a

One day Elisha went on to Shunem, where a wealthy woman lived, who urged him to eat some food. So whenever he passed that way, he would turn in there to eat food. And she said to her husband, "Behold now, I perceive that this is a holy man of God, who in continually passing our way. Let us make a small roof chamber with walls, and put there for him a bed, a table, a chair, and a lamp, so that whenever he comes to us, he can go in there." One day he came there, and he turned into the chamber and rested there. And he said to Gehazi his servant, "What is to be done for her?" Gehazi answered, "Well, she has no son, and her husband is old." He said, "Call her." And when he had called her, she stood in the doorway. And he said, "At this season, when the time comes round, you shall embrace a son."

8:00 am & 6:00 pm Masses only

Responsorial Psalm

89:1-2,15-16,17-18

R/. I will sing the mercies of the Lord for ever.

I will sing of your mercies, O Lord, for ever;
with my mouth I will proclaim your faithfulness to all generations.

For your merciful love was established for ever,
your faithfulness is firm as the heavens. R/.

Blessed are the people who know the festal shout,
who walk, O Lord, in the light of your countenance,
who exult in your name all the day,
and extol your righteousness. R/.

For you are the glory of their strength;
by your favor our horn is exalted.

For our shield belongs to the Lord,
our king to the Holy One of Israel. R/.

Chanted by the choir at the 10:30 am Mass

Gradual

Psalm 55:23,17,19

O cast thy burden upon the Lord:
and he shall nourish thee.

V. When I cried unto the Lord, he heard my voice:
from the battle that was against me.

Second Reading

Romans 5:12-15

Brethren: As sin came into the world through one man and death through sin, and so death spread to all men because all men sinned—sin indeed was in the world before the law was given, but sin is not counted where there is no law. Yet death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those whose sins were not like the transgression of Adam, who was a type of the one who was to come. But the free gift is not like the trespass. For if many died through one man's trespass, much more have the grace of God and the free gift in the grace of that one man Jesus Christ abounded for many.

8:00 am & 6:00 pm Masses only

Alleluia. Alleluia.

V/. You are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation; declare the wonderful deeds of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light.

Alleluia.

Chanted by the Choir at 10:30 am Mass

Alleluia.

Alleluia. Alleluia.

God is a righteous Judge, strong and patient:
and God is provoked every day.

Alleluia.

The Holy Gospel

Matthew 10:37-42

At that time: Jesus said to his apostles, "He who loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he who loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me; and he who does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. He who finds his life will lose it, and he who loses his life for my sake will find it. "He who receives you receives me, and he who receives me receives him who sent me. He who receives a prophet because he is a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward, and he who receives a righteous man because he is a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward. And whoever gives to one of these little ones even a cup of cold water because he is a disciple, truly, I say to you, he shall not lose his reward."

TO THE PARISHIONERS OF SMV

This coming week we celebrate what 56 men did in the largest city at the time, Philadelphia, over 200 years ago. These men represented many of the people in the colonies (that eventually came to be called the United States of America) declare their independence from Great Britain. Not everyone in the colonies approved, and a 7 year war ensued; a war partly between soldiers of the two powers (later, 3, with France) and partly a civil war fought between neighbors. After the war, and 6 years of confusion and turmoil, the states approved our current constitution. Our constitution is a remarkable experiment in a representative democratic republic, codifying some rights that have proved to be unique in world history, such as religious freedom. Charles Carroll of Maryland was the only Catholic to sign the Declaration of Independence and Thomas FitzSimons of Pennsylvania and Daniel Carroll of Maryland were the two Catholics who signed the constitution. In some of the original colonies established in the 1600's and continuing into the early 1800's there were significant anti-Catholic laws, but by 1830 they were by and large gone. As catholic immigrants began to come into this country in significant numbers beginning with Germans and Irish, there was a torrent of many other nationalities after the civil war, continuing into the 1920's. People came to this country (and still do) for many reasons, but the chance to practice their faith in peace was important for many of them.

Now we live in times where we can no longer assume a common understanding and heritage and acceptance of a Judeo-Christian ethos as the building blocks of our laws. The Catholic understanding of basic Christian doctrines was also the understanding of most main line Protestant communities, but for the last 40 years that is now gone. The Catholic Church stands almost alone in most of the fundamental moral issues of our mass culture. Nobody understands what the Catholic Church stands for...meaning, nobody bothers to take the time to learn. Most Catholics don't understand, and in the relentless media culture, most Catholics, just like the Protestants pick and choose what they believe in. George Weigel, a Catholic historian and apologist, wrote "Catholic thinking about freedom should begin where Catholic thinking about every other facet of the moral life begins – with the Beatitudes (Matthew 5: 3-12). The beatitudes are the basic gospel framework for thinking about the question, How should we live. Why? Because the Beatitudes point us to the eternal happiness for which the moral life, here and how is a preparation...The moral life involves rules for living that emerge from inside the human heart and its thirst for happiness with God. The basic moral question is not that familiar teenage query, How far can I go? The basic moral question is the adult question, What must I do to become a good person? – the kind of person who can actually enjoy living with God forever. In answering that question, we discover rules...That idea of the moral life – of a truly human life – leads to a very different idea of freedom."

If we think Frank Sinatra's "My Way" has been the theme song of the modern idea of freedom, you probably would be right. "It seems to sum up the widespread notion that freedom is a matter of asserting myself and my will – that freedom is really about choice, not about what we choose and why...Catholicism has a different idea of freedom: freedom and goodness go together...Freedom is doing the right thing and avoiding mistakes by habit. And another word for habit is virtue."

There are no virtues being extolled in the headlines this "Independence Day." The more they push God out of the public square, the more we need to know who we are, why we are and what we are as Catholic Christians. Pray for our country, our leaders and pray for our bishops; that they may have the courage to proclaim the faith once delivered.

ad Jesum per Mariam,
Fr. Dean

During the summer months, SMV is collecting paperback books to help stock the shelves at the USO in DFW airport. The USO allows the servicemen and women deploying to pick up & take books for their trip free of charge. Through your generosity, we have delivered 5 boxes so far & would love to deliver more. If you'd like to help, please donate paperbacks only (they are light and fit in backpacks more easily). Any genre, fiction or nonfiction, is fine. Even young adult books are welcome, since some of the troops are only 18! You can drop your donations in the box in the Narthex or bring them to the parish office during regular office hours.
